

I am italic but these words should be bold. Whereas these words actually are.

But it's not just italic style that throws off these words not being bold, Regular does too.

But style Roman doesn't throw off these words being bold.

I am italic but these words should be bold. Whereas these words actually are.

I am not italic because this font doesn't have one and weight selection is going to work here, but why am I weight 200 when 300 is thin, 400 is normal, and 600 is bold? Not to mention black.

Oh but wait, setting style Regular sets the font weight to 300 instead of the 200 default and lets you manually set 400 but not 600!
